The British Council funded me to carry out a two day 'Computer aided qualitative data analysis workshop' at the Department of Sociology, Delhi School of Economics in April 2002.

Results of Assessment of Teaching

My results for teaching performance from student feedbacks are typically as follows:

Racism, Ethnicity and British Society: 1.61
Work, Organisation and Society: 1.83

This is a mean score on a scale of 1-5 (where 1 is a perfect score), covering a range of indicators from, clarity of lecture, to use of visual aids. On this ranking system where the lower the score, the better the evaluation these results were considered outstanding. My average teaching across my time at Manchester is 1.8, which again reflect high levels of student satisfaction.
